Role of the NMBI

NMBI is the regulatory body for the professions of nursing and midwifery in Ireland. We have a statutory obligation to protect the integrity of the practice of the professions of nursing and midwifery and to protect the public. We perform our functions in the public interest under the Nurses Act, 1985 and the Nurses and Midwives Act 2011.

We do this by:

- maintaining a Register of Nurses and Midwives;
- promoting high standards of professional education, training and practice and professional conduct amongst nurses and midwives; and
- investigating and considering complaints against nurses and midwives who practise in Ireland.

Committees of NMBI

NMBI committees are established by the Board of NMBI to assist it in the performance of its functions, and to ensure that a broad range of contributions, skills and qualities are available to it in the interest of patients and the public. Committees are composed of Board and non-Board co-opted members who demonstrate knowledge, skills and/or expertise in the primary area of focus and responsibility of a particular committee.

Fitness to Practise Committee
