

NMBI Summer Series

A conversation about midwifery by midwives

Future Proofing Midwifery through Education, Practice and Leadership

The Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland (NMBI) will be co-hosting a Summer Series event with the University of Limerick (UL) on Wednesday, 8 June 2022.

The panel event will discuss the challenges facing midwifery and consider some of the possible solutions. There will be a focus on both recruitment to the profession and the retention of existing midwives. Leading experts in their field from both Limerick and the wider Munster region will discuss the autonomous role of the midwife. The evening is an opportunity to hear from leading experts in midwifery and from NMBI representatives on future plans for education in midwifery.

This is an in-person event only and is not being livestreamed.

You can register to attend on Eventbrite.

Date: Wednesday, 8 June 2022

Time: 17:00 to 19:45

Location: The Pavilion, North Campus, University of Limerick, Limerick, V94 F7XW

The NMBI Summer Series is an opportunity for professionals in both academic and clinical fields of expertise to come together to discuss the future for nursing and midwifery, to probe innovations in practice and to examine new ideas.
